1. Claims 7-16 are allowed.

The cited prior art taken alone or in combination fails to teach the claims invention to identify knowledge in rule formats from analysis results of the claimant developed using a text classification engine through a network wherein the network inputs a stream of free reply description in natural language resulting from questionnaire replies.

The closest prior art (Johnson et al U.S. Patent 6,212,532) teaches a text categorization toolkit providing feature definition, feature count and feature selection with filtering features depending on how distinctive they are for texts of a certain class. Johnson does not teach rule learning output means related to correspondence of text and category. With large numbers of questionnaire replies, the applicant's questionnaire analysis rule oriented methodology is efficient.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
